CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR APPETD MEMBERSHIP FOR 2017

APPETD is pleased to welcome Highbury College to the association for 2017 and we trust that you will find your time with us to be informative, supportive, rewarding and enriching.

APPETD is committed to being the leading representative body for private providers in South Africa and continues to protect and serve the interests of its members, and promote the skills, expertise and quality service that private providers contribute to the ETDP industry.

To ensure that our goals are achieved, APPETD is actively involved in many organisations including several SETA's, NSA, QCTO and SACE to name but a few. We endeavour to ensure that private providers are treated equitably and fairly, and are kept informed of policy, regulative and legislative decisions and implementations in order to maintain both compliance and quality delivery of education.

APPETD further hosts several workshops annually, on a national scale, to discuss current and relevant topics that may affect private providers and which are pertinent to the current ETDP landscape.

Beyond this, APPETD has partnered with Marsh to offer the Tuition Surety scheme which many of our members have taken up, and we are currently in discussions with a number of organisations to develop and offer our members even more value in the form of medical, provident and legal assistance Products. We are also introducing in 2017 a Quality Performance Grading system and an annual conference and awards event to recognise and acknowledge providers' achievements. Look out for future communications from our Business Development desk!
